

INSPIRED INTERIORS

OS Designs' studio has an international portfolio ranging from large-scale architectural design and renovation for listed buildings to commercial and residential interior design for projects across London and the Home Counties.

OS Designs has also completed extensive work on numerous private palaces, yachts and individuals planes across the Middle East and Europe, where the design team successfully completed projects with their trademark elegance and sophistication, while holding the clients vision at the forefront of the design.

In order to turn the conceptual design into reality, OS Designs project manages each project down to the finest detail; which allows the vision to come to life without compromising the design or quality.

OS Designs carefully manages each project from beginning to end, offering complete design service and project management throughout. Oz Lancaster is the Design Director and Founder of the studio, and together with an experienced team of designers she provides beautifully unique and functional designs for each individual client. OS Designs places great emphasis on maintaining strong client relations, tailoring each project to the specific needs and vision of the individual, creating exceptional, elegant interiors for private and commercial clients.

Based in West London, OS Designs is a leading Interior Design Company, as well as specialising in Interior Architecture; OS Designs also creates bespoke luxury interiors for private yachts and planes for discerning clients around the world.

Yachts and Planes

Extensive research with the best engineers and industry experts is conducted to create state of the art design and bespoke solutions for each project. OS Designs works closely with leading experts in the field to ensure that the design is followed meticulously all the way from the initial concept to the final outcome.

The team has completed several private yachts and planes; designing beautifully bespoke and elegant interiors, with the highest quality finishes. Pragmatic attention to detail, unique creativity and specialist design means each project, whether a private jet or a yacht, is completed with an effortless marriage of design and functionality.

According to design director Oz Lancaster, the key to realising a successful interior is to create a story around the space. The team is passionate about developing their clients' individual stories and reflecting that story throughout the design of the property, whether it's a new home or a listed building, the story begins with the design.
